

Gregory J. Frigoletto Named New Director at Dimeco, Inc.

Honesdale, PA / January 22, 2018 - John S. Kiesendahl, Chairman of the Board, and Gary C. Beilman, President and Chief Executive Officer of The Dime Bank and Dimeco, Inc. (OTC Pink: DIMC), parent company of The Dime Bank, announced Gregory J. Frigoletto has joined the Board of Directors team serving as the ninth board member.

Gregory Frigoletto comes to Dimeco with an extensive background serving our community in the field of education. As District Superintendent of Wayne Highlands School District, he is a passionate and accomplished professional with twenty-five years of experience in education, nineteen as an administrator, all at Wayne Highlands School District. Frigoletto began his career as an elementary teacher at Lincoln School and then Lakeside Elementary. After several years his achievement-driven, goal-oriented pursuits had Frigoletto working his way up through the district schools with promotions from assistant principal, to principal, to his current appointment in 2011 as District Superintendent. In addition, he is a certified instructor/facilitator for the National Institute of School Leadership PA Inspired Leadership Program.

Greg Frigoletto is a long-time Wayne County resident and a proud graduate of Honesdale High School. He holds a Master of Science from the University of Scranton and a Bachelor of Science from Kutztown University. Frigoletto holds additional certifications from the Pennsylvania Academy for the Profession of Teaching and Learning and received his Superintendent Letter of Eligibility from the University of Scranton.

Greg Frigoletto is extremely active in the community, serving on the boards of the Chamber of the Northern Poconos and the Wayne County Family Center. He is also a chairperson for Wayne Area Sports Hall of Fame and a member of the Honesdale Lions Club. Greg and his wife, Heather, live in Honesdale. They are the proud parents of two daughters, Olivia, a sophomore at the University of Pittsburgh, and Isabella, a sophomore at Honesdale High School.

Board Chairman John S. Kiesendahl commented, “Greg is a fantastic addition to our Board. He lives, works, and is raising a family right here in Wayne County. He is very connected to the community at large, both personally, and professionally as Wayne Highlands’ Superintendent. Greg brings a wealth of experience and expertise with him, all of which will be a wonderful complement to our board. We’re thrilled to have him join our team and we look forward to working together.”

President and Chief Executive Officer Gary C. Beilman remarked, “I am pleased to announce that our Board of Directors has appointed Greg as a new director of our bank. Greg’s focus on serving our community is a complement to Dimeco’s mission. In addition to Greg’s well-developed administrative abilities and excellent communication skills, Greg has experience in school finance and law, two disciplines which dovetail nicely with the board level discussions. As a leading community bank growing in this intricate economic and regulatory climate, Greg will be a strengthening addition to our directorate.”

Greg Frigoletto stated, “I have been privileged to be raised in a community like the one found in Wayne County. Growing up here, it was clear to me that this is where I wanted to someday settle and raise a family, which I am thrilled to be doing. I have been blessed to be a part of the Wayne Highlands School District where I have witnessed firsthand that “you are only as good as the people you surround yourself with”. In Dimeco, Inc. and The Dime Bank, I see the same tradition whereby great people are working hard to accomplish great things for their customers and their community. I look forward to working with the Board of Directors and pledge to assist in every way that I can.”
