

The Dime Bank's Vicki DiGiuseppe and Eric Avery Selected to Join Prestigious BAI Emerging Leaders Network

Honesdale, PA, August 30, 2018 / Vicki DiGiuseppe and Eric Avery have been selected to join the BAI Emerging Leaders Network, a selective professional development network dedicated to fostering growth of future leaders who will drive positive change in the financial services industry.

DiGiuseppe and Avery are two of 100 Emerging Leaders chosen by BAI to join its Emerging Leaders Network, which recognizes up-and-coming financial services leaders who have less than ten years of experience in the industry. The network provides learning, mentoring, networking, and recognition opportunities to aid in the development and career success of these standouts.

The Dime Bank President and Chief Executive Officer Gary C. Beilman enthused, "I am thrilled to announce that Vicki and Eric have been selected to be among the 100 emerging bankers nationally to participate in this year's program. To have two Dime Bankers selected, Vicki and Eric, out of 100 nationally, is a real fete. Eric is our Assistant Branch Manager in Damascus, and Vicki is a Credit Analyst in our loan department. Please join us in congratulating Vicki and Eric!"

Highlighted benefits for the emerging leaders include complimentary registration to attend the BAI Beacon conference, a unique learning and networking experience. They will also be able to participate in the year-round professional development community designed to provide relevant education, mentoring, networking opportunities, and more.

Avery stated, "Being chosen to join the network will give me the skill set needed to continually grow within The Dime Bank and to bring greater knowledge and inspiration to my peers." DiGiuseppe added, "Going to the conference will help me connect to other emerging leaders in the industry to gather ideas to propel me and the bank forward."
